MRS. PAXTON IS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT IN VA.

J. H. PAXTON SERIOUSLY INJURED AS CAR TURNS OVER ON SHARP CURVE ON A VIRGINIA ROAD LAST WEEK

(Clipping from Virginia paper)
Mrs. Kitty Fountain Paxton, of New Mexico, was instantly killed, and James H. Paxton, her husband sustained serious internal injuries, at 11:45 o'clock yesterday morning, in an automobile accident on the valley Turnpike near Burkettown. Major R. G. Paxton, U. S. A., retired, brother of J. H. Paxton, the owner and driver of the machine, was only slightly injured.
The accident occurred on the famous "Burkettown hill," where there are two sharp curves in the turnpike within a distance of fifty yards. In making the first turn the machine almost went over an embankment, Major Paxton not knowing that the road turns so sharply at that point. When he attempted to regain control of the machine, the right rear wheel smashed under the weight thrown upon it in making the turn. This caused the machine to roll over sideways and turn completely around. Harry Mace, of Burkettown, was only a short distance ahead of the automobile party, and was an eye witness to the accident. He at once went to the scene. Mrs. Paxton's neck was broken. Her body lay under the running board of the machine, but was not held fast. Major Paxton was under the car, which had righted itself in the drain beside the road. James H. Paxton was found just behind the machine, unconscious from his injuries. He had apparently been thrown from the car before it finally overturned.

Mr. Paxton was removed to the home of F. S. Van Pelt in Burkettown where he was attended by Dr. Ward Harshbarger, of Weyer's Cove. Later he was taken to the King's Hospital, where his left knee joint is broken, and his left knee joint is broken. His left knee joint is broken. There is a gash in his back, and complaints of severe pains in his chest. His face is also painfully lacerated. The full extent of his injuries cannot be determined for several days. Major Paxton has a scar under his chin, and another on his right elbow, but was otherwise uninjured.

Sheriff D. E. Croushorn was the first officer to reach the scene. He found, however, that the accident had occurred in Augusta county, about 150 yards south of the Rockingham line. Dr. J. B. Catlett, the Augusta coroner, and Magistrate J. C. West, of Harrison, were notified of the tragedy.

Mr. West was the first to arrive. He gave permission for the body of Mrs. Paxton to be moved, having decided that no inquest was necessary. The body was then removed to the undertaking establishment of Lusty Koonz, at Weyer's Cove.

Mrs. Paxton was about thirty-five years old, and was a native of New Mexico. She married James H. Paxton, who is a prominent lawyer, about ten years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Paxton left their home at Las Cruces, New Mexico, several weeks ago for Nicaragua, Central America. They came to New York City by boat and then to Washington.

K. W. Couse, of New York, was in the city for a few hours the present week on his way to Taos where he will spend the summer at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Irving Couse, distinguished members of the Taos Artist Colony. It is the present plan of Mr. and Mrs. Couse and Kibbey to run over to the Frijoles cliff ruins for a visit where Mr. Couse will do some painting of those scenes which are among the most romantic and mysterious of any in the western section of the country which is full of interesting scenes and which furnishes so inviting material for the artist and the author and the tourists.

West, who was formerly connected with the New Mexican in Santa Fe and now is associated with the New State, at Tierra Amarilla, and Ben Martinez, one of the well known citizens of Rio Arriba county, Alex Read who has been spending some time in the county came down with the bunch. The party left for home on Thursday.

Violin Recital, at Scottish Rite Cathedral

Miss Virginia L. Bean, formerly of Santa Fe, but now of El Paso, Texas, delighted a representative audience with a violin and cello recital Monday night that was well worth hearing. Miss Bean in addition to a remarkable technique, acquired by most careful and expert training and much application, also has a deep appreciation for the music she interprets, making her playing soulful as well as finished. She is not so much the musical performer as the interpreter of musical themes to those who are privileged to hear and enjoy and appreciate.

The program given by Miss Bean at the Scottish Rite Cathedral Monday night gave the young artist an opportunity to display every phase of her musical skill. Through encores Miss Bean was compelled to double her program, and requests for the old favorites were many, among the encores were La Goldrina, which she played complimentarily to her Spanish friends, and Turkey in the Straw; a concert fantasy arranged by Mrs. Bean and Miss Bean, for those who enjoy the lighter vein, and "Come Back to Erin" on the cello was another encore that was truly beautiful.

Miss Bean has a future of rare promise as a violinist. Her skill upon the cello is on a par with her violin. The grace with which she plays the largest instrument is truly a picture of art. Miss Ramona Beckner, a finished pianist, delighted the audience with interpretations from composers such as Chopin, McDowell, Hollaender and others, which in themselves credit Miss Beckner with the highest ideals in composition, and to which, with her artistic temperament she gives and gets all there is. Santa Fe is indeed fortunate to have within her gates an artist of Miss Beckner's ability.

The Women's club very kindly loaned their piano for this concert, and it is needless to say that the success of the musicale was due much to this beautiful instrument. Especially the rich tones of the piano noticeable in the interpretation of the "Water Lily" (MacDowell) by Miss Beckner, which is practically a "tone-piece". The members of the Red Cross are truly appreciative of this courtesy.

Tea for Artists

Misses Massie delightfully entertained at a very informal tea the early part of the week, complimentary to the Artists who are at present in Santa Fe. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent.

Albuquerque Ladies Guests of Honor

Mrs. Nordhaus and Mrs. Ilfeld, of Albuquerque, were the inspiration for a very informal but pleasant tea at the home of Mrs. N. B. Laughlin's Monday afternoon. It was to have been a Lawn Tea but the rain spoiled only that feature of it, the whole affair was soon converted into the staid rooms of the Laughlin home and a very happy time was had. The tea was more for the strangers who have come among us of late to become one of us, and in this way, Mrs. Laughlin took the opportunity to welcome them.

House Guests from El Paso

Mrs. C. A. Haynes and Mrs. Castle have as house-guests for ten days, Mrs. V. L. Bean and her talented daughter, Miss Virginia. Several delightful informal affairs have been and are being planned in their honor.

Gonway Again.

It is beyond doubt that the choice of voters of the Santa Fe county for superintendent of county schools is John V. Conway. His activities and his tireless energy in the direction of school work has left its impress and one cannot make a trip through the county without noticing the monuments of Conway in the neat and new school buildings that are scattered here and there which were not to be seen before the interest aroused by John Conway's enthusiasm brought about the change. It is to be doubted if there is a county school superintendent in the state who gives to his office the time and earnest endeavors that is given by the official of this county. It is to be hoped that the nominating convention will renominate John V. Conway, and if this is done, it will meet the approbation of the voters without one word of dissension, at least within the ranks of his own party.

Dark Joy Riding

While some of our young men were joy riding Tuesday evening their lights went out and they landed in the wire fence along the road. None were hurt seriously, but the boys better just use gasoline next time.—Capitan Mountaineer.

Those Showers

Several good showers have visited Lincoln in the past ten days, which have cooled the air and caused the range to green up.—Capitan Mountaineer.

The administration's willingness to release certain classes of the Guardsmen from further service on the border has a stout financial string tied to it. The released men will be mustered out in Texas, of course, and as soon as this is done they become civilians for whom the War Department has no responsibility. Consequently, they will have to pay their own fare back home. Most of them come from the northern States and it will cost them $50 or more to get back. But the administration has made its "record" just the same as it has won so many "great diplomatic victories."
